

PERMACULTURE DESIGN CERTIFICATE COURSE

with a Deep Ecology & Community Development emphasis

Thurs 3 – Weds 23 FEB, 2011
Tui Community, Golden Bay, South Island

Main Tutors: Robina McCurdy, Gary Williams

*Please note that these dates may change either side by a few days to be confirmed soon, please allow for this if booking tickets

The course covers the standard 2-week international Permaculture Design Certificate curriculum, taught in an integrated hands-on way, culminating in several land-use design projects. The themes of deep ecology, community building and eco-village development will weave throughout our time of practical permaculture learning, which includes integrated orchard/animal design, mixed species forestry, microclimates for optimum organic food production, natural building, and design for sustainable social systems. Tui Community is a 25 year old, 40 member, rural residential community situated on 150 acres in beautiful Golden Bay.

Cost (related to income/financial means):

New Zealand participants: $ 1980/1780/1580

Overseas participants: $ 1980/1880/1780

Includes: tuition, accommodation, field trips, manual, food.

Registration Closing Dates:

- .Deposit by Fri 29 Oct, 2010 - $100 discount

- Deposit by Fri 10 Dec, 2010 - $50 discount

- Fri 21 Jan, 2011 - Registration Closing Date

Prompt registration encouraged, as limited to 20 participants.

Enquiries & Registration:

Inna Alex: earthcarenz@gmail.com

